Background: The International Conference on Smart Finance 2019 (ICSF 2019) is scheduled to be held in Beijing during July 26-28, 2019. The International Conference on Smart Finance (ICSF) is aimed to create a direct channel for industry leaders to connect and communicate with academic leaders on how to harness big data analytics and other technologies in New Finance.

With emphasis on the intersection of business intelligence (big data analytics and data science) and new finance (P2P lending, crowd funding, supply chain finance, and e-payment systems), the conference will feature keynotes, planetary speeches, panels, and paper presentations. The panel sessions could be created on hot and potentially controversial issues surfaced in various social interactions.

We cordially invite scientists, experts as well as scholars to participate in the event.

Paper Submission: We welcome two types of submissions (Abstracts and Full-text paper) from different aspects of business intelligence and new finance. Please send your submitted manuscript via the conference system: <http://epic.is.cityu.edu.hk/ICSF19/submission.html>, which is open from April 1th to June 30th. The length of papers should be 3-5 pages and follow the 2-column IEEE format (see attachment). All submitted articles should be written in English. Papers will be reviewed as soon as possible upon submission.

International Journal Recommendation: Selected papers that are presented at the ICSF 2019 will be invited to submit their revised versions to special issues of the journals, such as Financial Innovation, ACM Transactions on MIS, and so on.
